PUBLIC HEALTH ASSESSMENT AND ACCREDITATION

This 2 hour training session presents a broad overview of the essential services of public health and national accreditation. It encompasses three components:

- A capable and qualified workforce
- Up-to-date data and information systems
- Public health agencies capable of assessing and responding to public health needs

Increasing attention to public health infrastructure has led to the identification of a number of emerging issues. These issues are influenced by:

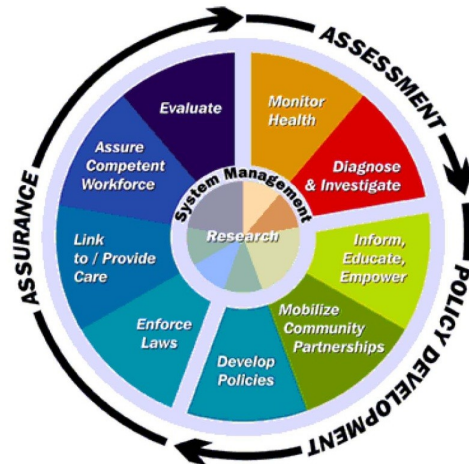

- Tribal Public Health Infrastructure
- Disparities in the public health workforce
- Accreditation of Public Health Agencies
- Public health systems research
- Public health law

GOALS

The goals of this training are to provide information on and an understanding of:

Essential services of public health and national accreditation.

1. Assessing public health performance
2. The role of the Northern Plains Tribal Epidemiology Center.
3. Role of public health in the community.
