

NEW PUBLIC HEALTH LAW FELLOWSHIP LAUNCHING IN 2023

CDC's
PUBLIC HEALTH
INFRASTRUCTURE CENTER

CDC'S PUBLIC HEALTH LAW PROGRAM and CHANGELAB SOLUTIONS announce the new Public Health Law Fellowship launching in January 2023. The Fellowship is designed for current graduate (e.g., MPH, DrPH, MPA, PhD) or law (JD) students, as well as recent graduates of these programs (within the past four years), interested in careers in public health law or policy. Fellows will be matched with host sites at state, local, Tribal, or territorial health departments, CDC, or other public health law organizations that support work in the public health law and policy fields.

ABOUT THE FELLOWSHIP

The Public Health Law Fellowship offers fellows on-the-job training to prepare current students and recent graduates for careers in public health law or policy. The program aims to strengthen the public health law workforce by increasing diversity within the field and preparing the next generation of public health law professionals to respond to critical issues.

Ideal candidates will have a strong commitment to the role of law in public health and positive community impact, improving health equity, and strengthening emergency response capacity. Successful fellows will bring lived experience with diverse perspectives, creativity, cultural awareness and inclusivity, and an innovative approach to problem solving.

PROSPECTIVE FELLOWS OR HOST SITES

If you are interested in applying for the Fellowship or if your organization is interested in serving as a host site for fellows, please email PHLFellowship@cdc.gov with the following information:

Name:

E-mail Address:

I am [select one]:

- Enrolled as a student in a JD, masters, or doctoral program
- A recent graduate of a JD, masters, or doctoral program (within the past four years)
- A representative of an organization interested in serving as a host site for this Fellowship program

LEARN MORE

bit.ly/CDCPHLFellowship